SAFETY INFORMATION

Desks and tables

Product group	Applies to children's desks and to tables, including coffee tables.

This document provides general information on the safe assembly and use of products in the specified group. Use it together with the assembly instructions for the particular model, the markings on the product and packaging, and the product-specific information on permitted loads, dimensions and fixing methods.

IMPORTANT: If the instructions for a particular model contain more specific requirements, restrictions or warnings, those take precedence over this general information.

Assembly and positioning

- Assembly must be carried out by an adult in accordance with the product instructions.
- Place the furniture on a stable, level surface. Before use, check the stability of the legs, frame, top and all joints.
- Do not use a product with missing, cracked or loose parts.

Safe use

- Do not sit, stand or jump on the top. The furniture is not intended for climbing.
- Do not exceed the permitted load specified for the particular model. Distribute the load evenly.
- Do not place heavy items close to the edge of the top if this could cause the furniture to become unstable.
- Children must use desks and tables for their intended purpose and under adult supervision where their age requires it.

Moving and maintenance

- Do not move the furniture while it is loaded. Before moving it, remove items from the top and, where possible, lift it rather than drag it across the floor.
- Regularly check that screws are tight and the structure is stable. If joints become loose, stop use until they have been properly tightened or repaired.
- Protect the furniture from prolonged moisture and excessive heat.

If a safety concern arises

If the product is damaged or is suspected of presenting a hazard, stop using it and contact the manufacturer. Do not make structural modifications yourself.
